Letter from the Vicar

Dear All,

For the Fruits of His Creation

It has been a year since I became the local Vicar. One of the main joys I have had in the past year has been trying to work the garden in order that it becomes both a sanctuary for reflection and also a place that produces good gifts. Since moving in I have planted many things, a mulberry tree, a fig tree and various herbs and plants and trees. I will have to wait for their fruits, though the fig tree is yielding more than I had expected! I have grown, beans, carrots, parsnips and various potatoes. Now we are eating them, and they taste wonderful. However, the best yield has been from the trees that had been planted years before. We have various plum trees (Green Gauge amongst them) and they have produced vigorously along with the apple trees. The main thing that has grown though, is my love for my garden and for the majesty of life in all its glory. I love this very ancient prayer by the first Christians: 'As the grain once scattered in the fields and the grapes once dispersed on the hillside are now reunited on this table in bread and wine, so, Lord, may your whole Church soon be gathered together from the corners of the earth into your kingdom' (60-70 A.D.). The garden teaches me that sometimes we reap the fruits of other peoples labour and that as I reap, I must sow in order that we have food for the future. However, as we enter into the spirit of harvest, it gives pause for reflection of the yield of God in us. As Paul reminds us: 'Now concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered together to Him' (2 Thess. 2:1). Harvest is a time to think about the time of God's harvest. We also think about what it is we feed on. We are what we eat we say. A belly full of food will need filling again tomorrow. To this Jesus said: 'Those who eat my flesh and drink my blood have eternal life, and I will raise them up on the last day; for my flesh is true food and my blood is true drink. Those who eat my flesh and drink my blood abide in me, and I in them' (Jn 6:54-6). We journey forward to that final day, that gathering in Christ, fed and sustained by His own Body and Blood in the form of bread and wine, once scattered and as His body gathered together in Him. Harvest is a time for thinking about waiting for that great harvest beyond the veil of this world. It's also a time for thinking about what we feed on our way.

PLANNING:

1. Road to Sugwas Farm - now completed.
2. Sundown - Extension - passed
3. Application received for The Turnpike for a dormer roof to be installed and change of use of part of ground floor. Now passed.
4. Pinston House - car boot site: an appeal has been put forward against Herefordshire Council turning down the application for building 41 mixed houses. The PC had sent in objections to this application which still stands. No further information.
5. Application received for new entrance to the Lakes and outline planning for 9 house. PC were happy with the entrance but objected to the outline planning for the road and houses on the site as they were concerned about the finished height.
6. Application received for a house to be built in the garden on No 2 Sugwas Pool Cottages - an objection has been returned as the PC were unhappy about the safety aspects of exit on to A438.
7. Report received that footing had been dug at Zaytoon but they were not in line with the approved planning application and were in front of the building line. The clerk to contact the Planning Authority.
8. New planning application will be coming in for the new footway from Church Cottages up to the village hall. Mr. Buchanan from Oakwrights had been in touch with Mr. Robinson regarding the new plan. They wanted to put a gravel path across the war memorial ground but as this was consecrated ground, there were objections to this. They also wanted to put an official path through the village hall car park - there were objections to this as it would reduce the parking area but the hall committee were happy for people to walk through the hall car park on an unofficial basis. Mr. Buchanan would come back to Mr. Robinson when the new plans were drawn up.

WAR MEMORIAL:

Cleaning and re-lettering has now been completed.

ANY OTHER BUSINESS:

1. A request was made for a sign to be put up on the Barnfield Road asking motorists to be aware of pedestrians. The clerk to contact Mike Gill.
2. Complaints had been received that the garden of 14 Roman Way was very overgrown and vermin had been seen. The clerk to contact Herefordshire Housing.
3. There was a request for the parish map to be put in a more prominent position in the village hall so more people could see it. At present, it is located in the meeting room. A notice would be put up to say where it was so that anyone interested could go in and see it.
4. It was reported that the Hay Festival sign is still up on the A438. The clerk to contact Mr. Gill to get it removed.

SOPHIE'S D-LOG

Hello Everyone.

I have been asked to put pen to paper again (or rather, paw to keypad) as news is somewhat thin on the ground during the holidays as everyone goes away. Well, not everyone and certainly not me and Jambo. In fact, I think we have been rather short-changed this year as we have not had a "proper" holiday since last October, when we had a really nice visit to the Cotswolds. That was the first time Jambo had been with us and he behaved extremely well – much better, in fact, than he does at home. But I shouldn't complain as we have lovely owners – most of the time anyway, except when we have one Vizsla too many staying - (thank you, says She Who Must Be Obeyed) and our dogs' life is a much better one than that of a lot of other dogs. We get walked regularly, fed and watered well, have lots of space to run around in (not that I do much running around these days! (That makes two of us, says SWMBO) and our sleeping conditions are not at all bad. I am allowed pride of place on the bed, but Jambo isn't allowed anywhere near it until the first cup of tea arrives in the morning. Mind you, I don't make it up there as often as I used to: I need assistance to get on to the bed these days, which can sometimes incur a few grumbles when I turn up in the middle of the night and one of them has to get out of the nice warm bed to help me up. Jambo, on the other hand, springs on with such vigour that he practically flies off the other side. The joys of youth!

Speak to you all again soon. Love, Sophie xx

Have you made your will yet?

You might have put it off as something that you can do tomorrow but never got round to doing. Here is your chance to put that right.

Every other year The Royal National College for the Blind holds a will-writing fortnight. This year it will take place with the generous support of both Harrison Clark Rickerby Solicitors and Mortimers Solicitors. The solicitors are kindly contributing their time by waiving their will-writing fee, giving you the opportunity to donate to the College. The suggested donation is £100 for a single will and £175 for straightforward mirror wills. If your will is more complicated, additional charges may apply.

The dates are from the 7th October to the 18th October. Please contact the solicitors directly to register your interest and arrange an appointment.
